NO. 93.

NEW DEPARTURE.—On and after December 1st, 1878, the store of Manning & Duck will be conducted on a cash basis. Every customer will be compelled to pay for his own goods. No extra profits for had debts. We propose to sell goods cheaper than they have ever been sold in this market. We are compelled to this important step by several weighty reasons: First, we wish to encourage prompt payment. Second, the prompt payer should not be compelled to pay an extra profit for the slow customer or the man that never pays. Third and most important reason, we are not able to carry so large an amount of capital on our books and keep up our stock of goods. Good gift edge customers will be allowed a credit of thirty days. If the payment longer time is given, interest of 10 per cent a month will be charged. A. H. MANNING.

The scarcity of diamonds, gold and silver, and the difficulties met with in securing them, is a sure indication of their value. Thus it is with a valuable medicine: Dr. Ang. Kaiser's celebrated German Palmonic Elixir, through the jealousy of rivals, has met with the most bitter opposition, and apparently almost insurmountable obstacles have been thrown in its way; but its opponents might as well try to change the course of the sun, sweep back the ocean with a broom, or put out a prairie fire with a tear. For the cure of Throat and Lung diseases, such as Coughs, Colds, Consumption and Bronchial Affections, it is unequalled. His cure are truly magical. Ask your druggists, ODDER & SHERMAN, for it. The genuine bears the Prussian Coat of Arms, the fac-simile signature of Dr. Ang. Kaiser, and has his name blown on every 75-cent bottle. Trial bottle, 25 cents. ANGEL.

MORRIS SCHWAB & Co., 19 and 21 Post street, San Francisco. Oil Paintings, Water Colors, Engravings and Frames. Well vet Frames of every description, for cabinet pictures. The latest productions of the best artists in the city go directly from the easel to this gallery. Visitors from Nevada are invited to inspect this fine collection. The display of Water Colors, fine Oil Paintings, Steel Engravings, Panels, etc., is very large and elegant. Artists' materials and every style of Frames to fill the largest order. ANG-1m

A CONUNDRUM.—"You are a riddle, sir," said an Irish man to his son. "And you are my father, sir," was the quick reply. "And it is no use to deny the relationship." The old gentleman attempted to assume a severe look, but a faint smile stole over his face, and to reward the wit of his son, went to S. N. Davidson's Jewelry Store and selected one of the finest Watches and Chains for him as a Christmas present. They both were made happy, as the son returned the compliment again. ANG-1m

RENO AND SURPRISE VALLEY.—Calderwood & Patterson's stages will leave Reno hereafter on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, at 5 o'clock A. M. on the following days. Fare, $30 each way. Freight on baggage over 30 pounds, 8 cents per pound. Office at Hammond & Wilson's stable, opposite Railroad depot. JOHN WILSON, Agent.

NOTICE.—Having established a purchasing agency, Mr. L. Blum will give his personal attention to orders of any kind, such as boots and shoes, furniture, crockery, carpets, millinery goods, groceries, etc. Being in constant business relations and having a thorough acquaintance with all the leading houses, ladies, in ordering through Mr. Blum, will receive the full benefit of his experience and find it more advantageous than doing their own shopping. Address letters, P. O. box 340, Sacramento, Cal. ANG-1m

HARD THINGS TO DO.—There are three things that no man can keep—a point on a pencil, a pointed joke and an appointment with a dentist. There are three things no woman can do—cross before a horse, hurry for a horse car and pass S. N. Davidson's jewelry window without calling and examining some of his fine holiday presents on exhibition, which he offers for sale cheaper than ever. ANG-1m

NABOB WHISKEY.

Consumers are referred to the following extract from the report of an eminent Public Analyst:

This is a pure barley and wheat spirit, remarkable in fragrance, which imparts a delicate aroma, at the same time greatly increasing its value as a digestive stimulant. The solid residue contains a large amount of tannin, derived from storing in oak casks, which imparts to the old whiskey one of its valuable individual qualities. The amount of the residue proves the whiskey to be free from the excessive coloring and sweetening so generally used in adulterating. In fact, in two words, it is the PUREST WHISKY, and will not only supply a public want, now that whiskeys are so generally adulterated, but will be of the greatest value to the physician in those numerous cases where pure whiskeys are the most useful of all medicines. G. WHITE FISH.

Large numbers of white fish are being caught in lakes Tahoe, Donner and in the Truckee river, from the town of Truckee to this place. As they rarely take a bait they are generally captured with a net or by snares. They are a most delicious fish for the table, much superior to the Truckee trout. Whether we are receiving this benefit from the white fish from lake Michigan planted by the California fish commissioners is a question much discussed by people on the Truckee river. In January 1877 the California commissioners planted 75,000 white fish in Donner lake and 175,000 in Tahoe near the Hot Springs. In January 1878 they planted 180,000 more in Tahoe. This year they have received 600,000 white fish eggs from the U. S. government, one-half of which are also intended for Tahoe and Donner. They will be hatched out and planted during the coming week. There is a native white fish in Lake Tahoe, but it has structural differences from the white fish of the great lakes and therefore has received a specific scientific name. The family is called Coregonus. The fish of the great lakes is called Coregonus Albo, the fish of Tahoe, Coregonus Williamsoni. Our native fish is said to be not so stout and thick as the Michigan fish, while the latter is said to be more round shouldered than the native fish. As there is no academy of sciences at Reno or Truckee, we are unable to decide the question as to whether the fish now being caught are natives or whether we are indebted to the importations of the California commissioners. We must ask our friends to notice if there are two kinds of these fish. If there are, then both natives and imported are running in the river. These fish are so much more numerous in the Truckee than ever before known or observed, that until there is proof to the contrary, we shall be inclined to thank the California commissioners for this increased and delicious food supply. The Gazette would take it as a favor if some one would bring in one of the stoutest and thickest caught, that it might be sent to a member of the San Francisco Academy of Sciences, who by counting the fin rays might settle the disputed question.

PRAYERS FOR THE PRESS.

To-night the evangelical churches all over Christendom will pray for the press. In these modern days the newspaper is a tremendous power, and this is recognized by the churches, as their latest in their conduct shows. Journalists are apt to resent the manner in which this interest is shown, some viewing it in the light of an impertinence and others as an insult. The Gazette on the contrary takes it that this manifestation of regard for the welfare of the press on the part of the religious world is natural and right. Newspapers have great influence in forming the ideas of both young and old and if they are not found upon the side of morality and piety, morality and piety suffer severely in consequence. The press, like all other human institutions, is far from being all that it ought to be. It is true that these who will pray for it to-night would probably fail to make the newspapers any better were they to take the management of them, but one can be a critic of books or pictures without being an author or artist. Similarly, a man may very clearly see faults in a newspaper who would himself make a very poor journalist. Prayers for greater dignity, greater intelligence, greater courage in exposing the wrong, greater industry in gathering the news, greater regard for the influence of the newspapers upon morals—surely such prayers are timely, and journalists should not wait for the churches to make these petitions, but should themselves offer them up daily. There is too much flippancy among us, brethren. Too much fear of the advertiser; too much truckling to power; too much time-serving altogether; too much stupidity; too much laziness; too much ignorance. Let us listen in humbleness to the prayers of the churches, nor deem that we are justified in our sins, because they are common to all men.

There were sixty failures in New York last month, with $1,542,000 liabilities, as against 101 failures, with $9,000,000 liabilities, in December, 1877.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The unwearied hopefulness of the regulation mining reporter is one of the wonders of the world. Every hole in the ground is in rock which shows favorable indications of an extensive ore body, and all will congratulate the genial and heroic superintendent who, through good and evil report, has clung to the Hollow Mockery (having no other way to squeeze a living) when he strikes it rich, as he is bound to do before long. This style of reporting has brought the press into not a little thoroughly well deserved contempt and made nearly all newspaper articles on mines so much wasted space. It arises from the ignorance of the reporters who usually know no more about a mine than they do of the bottom of the sea. They take the interested statements of superintendents and others and, moved by a desire to seem wise and to make out a good case for home property, give them to the public as the result of their own observation. Puffing will not put ore into a mine. This is a positive fact.

The San Francisco Chronicle is doing some powerful mud throwing over the scorching it has been getting in the police court lately. In its issue of yesterday that exemplary sheet has this pretty paragraph:

"The alleged indignation against Juror Reed for daring to maintain his honest convictions in the Placerville trial falls back upon the unsupported evidence of the author of the foul libel, the defendant Worley. It had no other foundation than in the meretricious faculty of fabrication of this unscrupulous emissary of a gang of scoundrels, and in his blind zeal to win their polluting praise he overstepped the mark, and stands branded as an idiotic, mercenary liar."

If that came from anything that looked like a gentleman a challenge from Mr. Worley would be in order, but as it is, Mr. Worley can afford to take abuse from the Chronicle. It would be as foolish in a gentleman of Mr. Worley's standing to place himself in any danger to resent what the Chronicle intends to be an insult as it would be for him to burn down his house because some spiteful black-guard had thrown filth against it. The Chronicle is receiving what it has long needed—a thorough overhauling.

The so-called ante-Mongolian club of San Francisco is succeeding in terrifying the country. The meeting of this dread organization was called to order on last Wednesday night by Thomas F. Bains "dressed," says the startled dispatch, "in Fenian uniform and wearing a sword." Only one result could be expected from the spectacle of such a terrible figure in the chair. The meeting broke up in a row and the police were called in to prevent bloodshed.

There is a Shakespeare in the Nevada legislature. They say that Shakespeare died drinking sack, but his namesake cannot follow in his footsteps, for the only thing that will burn a Nevada stomach is the sizzling of water as it suddenly sprinkles on the sea of corn juice.—Sacramento Bee.

Once more we urge upon the people of Nevada the immeasurable superiority of the California practice of never under any consideration allowing water to come in contact with the stomach.

Some of the San Francisco papers, including the Bulletin and Chronicle, persist in spelling Governor Kinkaid's name "Kinkaid." That the entire Nevada press and the owner of the name spell it "Kinkaid" is, of course, no reason why they should know better than the San Francisco papers. In many vastly more important matters those journals show the same callous persistence in believing they know far more about Nevada matters than Nevadans possibly can.

We agree with the Enterprise that Nevada stands in far greater need of a lunatic asylum than of a reform school. The Enterprise's suggestion that the asylum should be located at Reno also meets with our approval, but we think the expensive walls outside the town should have a state prison inside them.

Minnie Myrtle Miller is getting some splendid free advertising. Every paper that one picks up contains the item that she is a grass widow again and ready for sealed, unsealed, or, indeed, any kind of proposals. It would cost an ordinary woman thousands of dollars to place herself on the market like this.

It all depends on the way you look at it. The Mormons denounce the anti-polygamy decision as an attack upon divine authority.

editorial hands runs short, we will ship ourselves to Amador for a brief season.

The action of the state senate today in endorsing the bill now before the house of representatives forbidding the captains of ships to land more than a given number of Chinese upon American soil, will be approved heartily by the people. Whether or not the bill would accomplish the end aimed at, is not of so much consequence at this juncture as the value of the impression which will be made at Washington. The action of the California constitutional convention has aroused public attention in the East to the Chinese question and helped to draw the serious notice of the cabinet to it. Nevada's second will be another convincing proof of the unanimity of the sentiment which prevails on this coast in regard to Chinese, and will help toward some broad and final course of action on the part of the government.

Charley Ross, Stewart's remains, Tom Lawton, Le Warne. Oh, these lynx-eyed detectives.

The Grandeur of Ancestry.

In a letter to the Burlington Hawk-eye Mr. Burdette, the humorist, says: Speaking of relics, just before we reached Portsmouth a man entered into conversation with me. He said: "You are from the West."

"I murmured something about the vast illimitable, etc., and the man said: "Yours is a new country, a new country, a new country."

"Yes, I told him, it was new, but was the only country we had, and accordingly we wore it Sundays and week days alike, worked and went to parties in it, and it would soon look a thousand years old."

"We," the man said, "came down from the venerable mists of antiquity. It is a glorious thought."

"Yes, I said, but it wasn't pleasant. I was in Boston four days, and it was misty enough, but spoiled the prospect."

"My ancestors," he said, "came over in the Mayflower. But yours"—and he looked at me with rising infection.

"I tried to slay him with a silent look of scorn, but she missed fire."

"Your ancestors, I take it," said the man, "did not come over in the Mayflower?"

"And then I turned upon him. 'Sir,' I remarked, 'this Mayflower, I take it, was a sailing ship.'"

"She was," he said, vainly endeavoring to stifle his emotion.

"Then," I said haughtily, "most assuredly my ancestors did not come over in the Mayflower. It has never been the misfortune of my family to be compelled to take passage on any ship of the merchant marine. My ancestors came over in a Cunard steamer, first cabin, no steerage passengers carried, only 10 days from Liverpool, and the minute they landed in New York they went straight up to Mr. Astor's tavern, and took front rooms on the parlor floor."

"I thought I had crushed that man but may I be blessed if he didn't look as though he pined me."

The Grant Movement Waning.

New York, Jan. 9.—Actual resumption has materially modified the eastern movement for Grant's re-nomination to the Presidency. This is the general opinion among the shrewdest in forecasting the political future. The Grant movement reached its climax just after the Maine election. When fear was aroused that the Greenbackers, obtaining control of congress, might organize a hostile demonstration of labor against capital. This led to the desire for a strong man at the head of the government who would be likely to take unusual responsibility. But the November elections banished the fears which suggested such a necessity. Now that resumption is believed to assure renewed industrial prosperity, the public tendency is towards candidates whose experiences are supposed to fit them for the solution of political-economic problems.

Ferils of a Mail-Carrier—Twelve Days in the Cold.

HELENA, Mon., Jan. 9.—On the 27th of Dec. the mail driver, Casey, left Sun River in a mail cart for Fort Benton. Not reaching Twenty-eight Mile Springs station, half way to Benton, and a blinding snow storm prevailing at the time, he was supposed to be lost. Search was made, and on the 5th instant Casey was found seated in the cart, which the horse was drawing slowly along about twenty miles north of Springs Station. During all this time he had wandered on the prairie in nearly a circle, picketing the horse and camping out of nights. His feet are frozen, but it is believed not seriously, and he will not lose his limbs. The only thing that passed his lips was tobacco and snow, the thermometer the whole time being below zero.

Wasteful Workmen.

(S. F. Stock Exchange.)
McKenzie, the temperance lecturer, last night remarked that the $40,000 per day spent in San Francisco's 3000 saloons was not spent by "bloated boozeholders" or "lecherous capitalists," but by the workmen who complain so bitterly of hard times. McKenzie is evidently a "hell bound villain," if not a "blessed capitalist" and "lecherous boozeholder" himself. The right platform is that workmen have a right to squander 50 per cent of their earnings, but that a capitalist has no right to save 75 per cent. He must hand it over to anyone who is ready to give 50 per cent of it to the poor, hard worked men who keep whiskey shops and stagger around under the crushing weight of quartz jewelry, diamond pins and gold-headed canes.

CAPTURED BY INDIANS.

Remarkable Adventures of an Iowa Woman and Her Son.

(New York Herald.)
OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 14.—Deep interest is taken to-day in the narrative of Mrs. Charles Jones, of Washington county, Iowa, who arrived with her son last night, and whose story of suffering on the plains, with the astonishing revelations regarding certain Indians of the Yankton agency, has few parallels in frontier history. Mrs. Jones and her son, it is believed, are the sole survivors of a party of twelve emigrants who left Washington county last February for the Yellow Stone valley. They reached Fort Kearney about March 1, 1878, and when a few days out from there, in the river bottom, they were surrounded by a party of seventy Indians. William Brown, Joshua Brown and Joseph Hyatt, a brother of Mrs. Jones, constituting the men of the party, were instantly shot dead. All the others were taken into captivity. All but Mrs. Jones and her son disappeared, and, as she believes, were massacred.

SHE WAS MADE A SLAVE to the chief named Yankton, cooking, picking berries and performing other menial offices. She was never allowed to meet or talk with her son. Her clothes were taken from her and she was allowed only blankets and moccasins. The camp was moved often, always northward. The warriors several times left the party and returned with clothing and plunder, evidently taken from murdered whites. The interpreter who was with the party, named Ginnia, stated that he was captured from a party of emigrants when he was only 11 years old, and he is now 40. He adopted their life, became a Catholic and was educated at a Jesuit college. He told Mrs. Jones that the party was chiefly Yanktons, from the Yankton agency, but that there were a few from Red Cloud and Spotted Tail agencies. They were out always during summer and returned to the agencies in the winter.

OTHER CAPTIVES. Their slaves are kept outside the agencies in concealment. Other female white slaves in the party told her, through the interpreter, that their friends had been murdered, and as they had no homes they did not dare to escape. Young Jones, who is aged fifteen, became a favorite and was kindly treated. At the expiration of two months they reached the neighborhood of a small village in Northern Nebraska, where the Indians prepared liquor, and they all became drunk. That night Mrs. Jones escaped, having on only a ragged blanket and one moccasin. She travelled south, being guided in her course by the stars, and subsisting for many days on raw antelope. After five or six days she met occasional emigrant wagons moving northward, and was given a dress. She begged her way through the state, reaching her old home in Iowa the last day in June. Here she procured a small sum of money. She became alarmed at the uncertainty of

HER SON'S FATE and returned to Central Nebraska, where she traveled from place to place, watching for emigrants from the north and living with farmers. At the expiration of many weeks, sick and disheartened, she again started eastward. One day last October, while walking through Kearney, she met an emigrant train, whom she recognized as her son, who had just come in from a long and terrible journey. Sheltered by James Carmichael, a farmer, she watched at her son's bedside during a long illness. When the boy partially recovered they both started east on foot, stopping with farmers and making slow progress on account of their enfeebled condition.

Citizens here collected some money and sent both home this morning. Every detail of the above story is confirmed. The naked bodies of three murdered men were found last March on the plains north of Kearney, but the murders were supposed to be the work of tramps. Men here from the agencies are preparing to investigate the matter and express the opinion that many of the agency Indians have kept up the systematic murder of settlers during the summer and successfully concealing their crime. At the Yankton agency there will be an immediate investigation, and the identity of the Indians secured if possible.

The Charges Against Grover.

New York, Jan. 9th.—The World says: The explanation of Senator Grover was the only occurrence of much interest in congress yesterday. Nothing short of a regular investigation by a court or by a committee will satisfy the people, who now believe the charges, that they are trumped up. But it is certain in this case, as in all similar cases, that somebody should be punished—Governor Grover if he is guilty, and his slanderers if he is innocent. Though Scandalum Magnatum is no longer a legal offense, it is a social and political offense, through no adequate penalties, either social or political, are provided for it.

How Mosby Recognized them.

(S. F. Stock Exchange.)
A number of gentlemen who "fought on the opposite side during the war" called on Colonel Mosby at the Palace hotel yesterday. It was noticeable that every one of the warriors had to be introduced to the ex-confederate chieftain. He did not seem to know any of the gentlemen as they entered the room, but as they retired a gleam of recognition was observed to light up the chieftain's face.

A Fatal Practical Joke.

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio, Jan. 9.—Tuesday a colored tramp, sleeping in the engine room of the paper works, was suffocated by the fumes of a mixture of chlorate, potash and nitric acid, a kettle containing it having been placed near him as a practical joke.

Grant and the Irish.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—A Herald cablegram says: Grant had a very warm reception at Belfast. It is now believed riots of a dreadful character would have ensued if he had gone to Cork.

AN INFALLIBLE Hair Restorative, which will restore the grayest hair to its natural color, remove dandruff, and prevent the hair from falling out. It is cleansing and invigorating, making the hair healthy and glossy in all instances. It will reproduce a growth of substantial hair to bald heads when the roots of the hair (however feeble) are left. I warrant this hair restorative to be harmless, and to do all that is claimed for it. It is not a new article, but has been in the market since 1868. All those having this article for sale, and those who ever used it, pronounce it the best in the market. Examine carefully before buying, to avoid deception. Prepared and sold by HENRY FUCHS, No. 226 J Street, Sacramento. Also for sale by leading druggists throughout California and Nevada.

No mineral or damaging substance is used in this preparation, and it is guaranteed to prevent hair falling out after four applications. Well-known cases of long standing baldness have been successfully treated (as per testimonials in my possession). It will produce a full flowing crop of hair on all stages of baldness, even to its most pronounced state. It will prevent hair from turning gray. Preparations forwarded to all parts of the country.
